Off the beaten track, Parrs Road offers a quieter spot whilst being within a short walk of the Post Office and boutiques of the village, and this quaint cottage packs a bit more punch than meets the eye...

With just a small collection of cottages along Parrs Road, #5 sits towards the top of the lane set within pretty gardens, and although there's certainly space to the rear for a car, there so too is scope (gaining relevant permissions of course) to use this fair sized frontage for the same.

Our client has executed a beautiful restoration of the cottage which has both dining room with exposed sandstone hearth, as well as a separate sitting room, complete with wood burner. The kitchen, afforded by the windows to both side elevations, and rear, is beautifully bright; it's functional, fresh and provides space enough for a breakfast table. Note the stairs from the far side here taking you down to the doorway opening to the gardens. Also note the new bathroom suite.

Upstairs there are two proportionate bedrooms, both doubles, both enjoying the leafy surrounds of Parrs Road.

With the plot on offer here, there is potential to extend, our client has historically had planning passed for a double storey extension - see Wirral Planning and Ref number APP/21/00453 for the now lapsed plans - most certainly an interesting prospect for an already gorgeous cottage.

CH43 5TX for your Sat Nav - don't blink, or you will miss the turning into this quiet lane.
